Savannah cats are a spotted domestic cat breed started in the 1980's. Developed to give the impression of grandeur and dignity of a wildcat with a cheetah type appearance, expressive eyes highlighted by dark tear stains, vibrant coat colors, solid contrasting black spots, huge sonar-like ears and long legs. Since 2006 they have held the Guinness Book World Record for the world's tallest domestic cat. They do not require any special health care. They visit a regular veterinarian for routine feline health maintenance. The Savannah Cat's personality is playful, adventurous and loyal. Unlike most cats, she loves to play in water and can even be trained to walk on a leash and play fetch. Don't be fooled by her dog-like personality, though. Savannah Cats have strong hunting instincts, so they aren't always suitable for households with pets like fish, hamsters, and birds. Her temperament is mild, though, so she's a great companion to other cats and dogs, children and other humans in her home with proper socialization as a kitten. This book will provides vital information on the origin, physical attributes, temperament, health problems, feeding, and socialization of this wonderful pet bird.
